

'Talbot House - a Home from Home'

Beyond Eternity Promotions have advised of the above play written by Peter Gill which starts its first tour in April. It tells the story of Talbot House and endeavours to create a bit of the atmosphere that existed there. Talbot House in Poperinge, the Everyman's Club where during the Great War soldiers of all ranks were treated equally and could renew a sense of normality.

It is a play suitable for a family audience and although set during a harsh period of our history, it dwells on the positives that came out of the period – not the horrors.

There are seven one-day venues in April to June with a showing in the North West at Stockport Garrick, Stockport on 20th June. The play is to be given at Talbot House, Poperinge on 8th and 9th November and the promoters say that more performances are planned for the autumn.

Western Front Association members are offered a £2 discount on tickets at all UK performances. You may book your tickets with Beyond Eternity Promotions (contact details below) or by contacting the theatre direct. Also should you not be able to make one of these performances but would be interested in being kept up to date with future performances they ask you to contact them.
